Alba (Scotland): Past and present

State of Gàidhlig in 1891:

More than a third of the usually resident population still spoke Gàidhlig. The language was spoken by the majority of all persons older than 45. Accordingly it can be assumed that intergenerational language transmission had seized in this district roughly in the 1850s. On the other hand no school aged children were returned as speaking Gàidhlig.

Gàidhlig-speakers were most prominent in the dwellings of Sròn a'Charbhaigh (Stroncharvie) and Tom Breac (Tombreck) with over 57 % of inhabitants speaking the traditional language.

Area description:

The district covers the rural part of the parish of Baile Mhìcheil (Kirkmichael) north of the village of Tom an t-Sabhail (Tomintoul) in the mountainous part of the county of Banbh (Banff).

The human settlements consisted of scattered farm houses and crofts on both banks of the middle course of Abhainn Athfhinn (River Avon).

Age profile : Share of population speaking (1) Gàidhlig, (2) Gàidhlig & English, or (3) no Gàidhlig at all

Background of Gàidhlig (Scottish Gaelic) Local Profiles:

The 1891 census was the first such enumeration exercise with an unequivocal language question. After more than 100 years the original census forms are publicly available for detailed analysis. During research concerned with the "Gàidhlig (Scottish Gaelic) Local Studies" a vast number of such local statistics have been gathered about the Gàidhlig speaking population of Scotland in that year. As many of these results could not be included in the reports these concise fact-sheets are a welcome way to publish some of the "local gems". Place of birth and Gàidhlig speaking:

Almost 40 % of people born nearby still spoke Gàidhlig. This was a share similar to the one among those residents born in other parts of the Gaidhealtachd.

Notes:

² Born in other parishes of Scotland with more than 50 % Gàidhlig speakers in the 1891 census.

Speakers according to place of birth (1) nearby¹ (2) in remaining Gaidhealtachd ², or (3) elsewhere

Remarks:

1. Only a 66 years old woman was returned as speaking “Gaelic only”. She was married to a local crofter and water bailiff. Her birthplace, however, was located on An t-Eilean Sgitheanach (Isle of Skye)
2. In original census report terms the district had a population of 276 persons of all ages. 90 enumerated inhabitants spoke “Gaelic and English” and one return was counted as monolingual Gàidhlig speaker. This led to an “official” share of Gàidhlig speakers of 33.0 %. This was a small under-estimate of 1.9 %!
